

iBelieve NE – April 22nd - looksoftware believes in IBM i

Austin, TX – April 7th, 2013. Following the overwhelming success of iBelieve in California and New York, looksoftware brings this free IBM i community event to New England on Monday April 22nd. iBelieve will be held as a lead-in event for the NEUGC 23rd Annual IBM i User Conference, also starting on April 22nd.

Dr. Frank Soltis will once again headline the event, and will be joined by Pete Massiello, Alison Butterill, Trevor Perry and Brendan Kay to recognize and explore the power of IBM i. These speakers will be discussing the innovations and skills that are driving the platform forward, the challenges facing IBM i customers and correcting some misconceptions along the way. Topics include future directions in business computing, programming, and applications on the IBM i platform. The interactive sessions will be followed by the lively Q & A session, where attendees have the opportunity to address the speaker panel directly regarding the future of the platform.

As described by Pete Massiello from iTech Solutions, "iBelieveNY was more than just an event, it is a way of thinking. You could feel the energy and excitement in the presentations and the audience." The venue is the Sheraton Framingham Hotel & Conference Center, Framingham, MA. Lunch and refreshments will be provided for attendees and registration is free of charge.
